

Attachment: New Directions in Psychotherapy and Relational Psychoanalysis
Author declaration

Title of paper:

Author(s):

[For jointly authored papers, each named author must submit a signed author declaration]

I confirm that:

1. This paper has not been published before (unless it is made clear that the paper is a reprint and appropriate permissions have been obtained), nor has it been submitted elsewhere for publication.
2. I will not post the paper on any public site or public forum without first seeking the written permission of the editor. If the paper is a co-authored paper, I agree that I will obtain permission from the co-author(s) prior to seeking permission from the editor.
3. In the event that I become aware that the paper has been posted on any public site or forum without my consent or knowledge, I will immediately notify the editor of this breach.
4. The paper submitted is an original work that is all the author's/authors' own work, with the exception of quoted material or where the work of others has been referred to and these are clearly attributed to the original author(s).
5. I have read the 'Instructions to Contributors' and complied with the permissions/copyright guidance contained there
6. Confidentiality has been preserved in relation to any clinical material used and I have used all possible means of assuring the confidentiality of those about whom I write or I have the subjects' consent to write about them.
7. I accept full responsibility for any action that might be taken in connection with the paper, and indemnify the journal and its publisher from any related liability or claim.

Signed:

Name:

Date:

Please ensure that this form is signed and returned with your manuscript when you submit it.