

CALL FOR PAPERS

Couple and Family Psychoanalysis:

Special Issue, March 2024:

Turning a Blind Eye: Sexual violence in Couple and Family Relationships.

Deadline for submissions: July 1, 2023

Reinforcing the increasing concern about domestic abuse figures from the UK Office of National Statistics confirm that almost one in three women aged sixteen to fifty-nine years old will experience domestic abuse in their lifetime, sexual violence within couple and family relationships remains hidden, is often unreported and is little understood. Concern about this is not limited to the UK but is widely prevalent. This special edition focuses on understanding the nature, extent, causes, and treatment interventions relating to sexual violence within the context of couple and family relationships. The deadline for submissions is July 1st, 2023, although indications of interest would be helpful by January 2023.

Contributions should be 4,000-8,000 words, and submitted according to the instructions of the publisher (available at <https://firingthemind.com/product/cfp>). Address any queries to the Editor-in-Chief at cfpeditor@tavistockrelationships.ac.uk.

The arts and book Editors will be searching for reviews of current plays, films, art exhibitions and books. If they fit the theme, so much the better.